Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 26 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy showers with thunderstorms this week. Feeling cooler from tomorrow.

Today:
A dry start bringing sunny spells through the morning. Into the afternoon, some fair-weather cloud developing, but still with sunny spells in between. Feeling very warm. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry night for most of the region with clear spells, although cloud approaching from the west, bringing isolated showers to some parts later. Minimum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tuesday:
An unsettled day for most. It will often be cloudy with heavy showers, some thundery, coming in from the west. Occasional brighter spells. Feeling cooler than Monday. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Heavy showers persist through the period, perhaps merging to more general rain later Thursday. Feeling fresher and often breezy.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.